MACMARR STORES

1407 SARTORI AVENUE

1929 CARSON STREET

There is a MacMarr store within your vicinity that remains open evenings for your protection, and when the bright lights are on in the cool of the evening, MacMarr prices will remain the same as they were throughout the day. MacMarr will not tolerate store employees taking advantage of the opportunity for added profits just because a competitive neighbor happens to choose closing their store at an early hour. This condition existed throughout this city before MacMarr stores were open to the public for evening shopping. Consequently we are open evenings for your protection.

The church had been beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers furnished by Mrs. Ada Cross, and the talks of the evening were interspersed by musical numbers by Lowell Benfer, Phyllis Howe, Mrs. A. Stans of Rev. Heisterman and Mrs. George E. Preston.

Brothers' Fight Aired in Court

LOMITA.—The spectacle of a father and mother testifying against a wayward son was an unusual scene in the local court Wednesday morning. The 21-year-old son, Fred Von Richtenberg, was on trial for assault on his 25-year-old brother, Eberhard. The affair happened Thursday evening at the home of the parents on Lucille street when the older brother tried to dissuade the younger from leaving home. In court the older brother appeared with a black eye, a badly disfigured mouth, and could speak only with difficulty, while the younger had his right hand bandaged as a result of blows he had given his brother.

Judge Dennis found Fred Von Richtenberg guilty of assault, and in view of the fact that the brothers had never had serious trouble before, and that a boy 21 years old had a right to leave home, he dismissed the case, with orders to the defendant to report to the court clerk twice a month, to keep away from home altogether and to get a job.

Mrs. Barron Beckham, Bernell and Jeanne, Mrs. Fanny Skinner and Mrs. Laura B. Blasier left Tuesday for a trip to the Yosemite.

E. Buckman pleaded guilty in Judge Dennis' court Wednesday to two counts of violation of the abortion laws. Sentence was suspended on one count, and on a charge of having more than the limit, he was fined $25 or 10 days, with $20 or 5 days suspended. Buckman paid the fine.

Municipal Bus Line With Five-Cent Fare Starts at Montebello

MONTEBELLO, July 28.—Operation of Montebello's new municipal bus line started today after an official inspection by Mayor William H. Cook and Superintendent O. K. Brown of the four municipal buses recently purchased by the city council. A five-cent fare has been established.

Recently a survey was made by A. N. May, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, which revealed that many residents were moving out of Montebello because of the lack of adequate transportation facilities. The survey also showed that a municipal short line which would connect with the Los Angeles Railway system would provide the city with a 10-minute service to downtown Los Angeles. So the Chamber of Commerce immediately staged a campaign for the installation of a municipal line which culminated in the purchase of four light buses by the city council.

The four buses are equipped to carry 17 passengers and will operate on a 10-minute schedule 18 hours a day. They were specially designed for the city, being assembled in Los Angeles with a Dodge Brothers chassis and engines at a cost of approximately $10,000.

gave to San Fernando to place their maltese-Belgian police dog in the care of a kennel operator just at the start of their trip with the Scotts. The dog couldn't stand the heat of the desert, according to Summers, who is assistant city engineer.

Fair and Hotter
Dr. R. A. Bingham escaped the heat by going up to Port Angeles in Washington. He said that it was nice and cool up there but was glad to get back to Torrance, as the driving to and from the Puget Sound city was "pretty warm."

Mr. and Mrs. George Peckham "baked out" in the Mammoth Lakes district for two weeks, returning here last Tuesday. "Was it hot? I'll say it was—we're glad to be home where we can spend the rest of the summer in comfort and still have the beach attractions almost at our doorstep," Peckham declares.
